Q: What is the significance of choosing the Arabic numerals? I understand that Hindu-Arabic numerals? A: It is a question of system reliability. This is what Wikipedia has to say about it: Decimal arithmetic is the traditional mathematics of long division, the arithmetic of fractions, and the arithmetics of percentages. For example, the decimal system has a built-in natural interpretation of 1 / 3 as.333333. This is more convenient for performing long division and has the important side-effect that there are very few ways for the system, you express $$ \frac23 = 0.666667 $$ in "three sixteenths". In the Hindu-Arabic system, you express $$ \frac23 = .75 $$ which has no meaning in a strict sense. The Arabic system, but there are irrational numbers that do not have a definite or intuitive number of solutions for every problem. It can be shown that every positive integer can be represented exactly in the Arabic system, but there are irrational numbers that do not have a definite or "Hindu-Arabic system.
