The book "Conquerors of Fire" is an account of the lives of several generations of one seemingly ordinary family. The father of the family, named Elijah, has a son named Elijah (Timothy, translated from the Greek as "the gift of God") who is his successor. They also have a daughter named Helen, who is her father's heir. All the children have inherited from their parents their character, willpower, as well as some traits and habits. Timofey is a goal-oriented person, he always gets what he wants. In adulthood, Timothy remains the same stubborn and does not like to be contradicted. All of his resentment that arises in his soul, he usually pours out on those people who argue with him. Timothy is an intelligent and yet talented man. He has an excellent memory, he studies well in school, but still does not like this case. Timothy is a great speaker and is able to achieve his goals. In any company he quickly finds friends, everyone loves him, he is always ready to help. Do not forget about his great sense of humor, which, by the way, helps him in any conflict situations. Timothy is very sociable and can easily start a conversation on any topic, he's not afraid of new acquaintances and is always interested in new people. Timofey is the soul of company, he is fun and easy to be with, he is always surrounded by a large number of friends. Timofey will always support and help loved ones, his help will not go unnoticed, and therefore he always enjoys universal respect.
