It was created by the creator of the Original Divine Screensaver. Category:Windows-only software11/03/2011 I was lucky enough to receive a few of the First Available (F.A.) books for review at the lovely public library in Leeds, as I have a lot of friends and family who live there. I think a lot of people have been getting a lot of F.A. books! My books of choice were: 1) The Wayfarer, by Tom Holt. The Wayfarer is set in a fantasy world that is all stars, no planets, and where they travel in space ships. I liked it because it was different! 2) The Nothing, by Alan Moore and Kevin O'Neill. I actually really enjoyed this book, it is set in London in the near future and is about the rise of the dark god cult group The Nothing. I thought this novel was much more clever than I expected it to be, and it was a really engrossing read. 3) Everything and Nothing, by John Wyndham. What the hell, books about things falling from the sky? John Wyndham is a brilliant writer, I thought this was an incredibly clever and thoughtful book! 4) The Novel of the White
