Great game! A nice combination of old school fantasy and some of the newer RPG mechanics. Create your own story and experience it. No forced quests or actions, you choose the way you play. Having reached a level of power and equipped yourself with the strongest gear, powerful skills, and the most powerful spells you can find, it's time to venture into the Lands Between, and find out what goes bump in the night. Each monster encountered will ask you to choose a task from a selection. Are you better off hunting down a rare enemy, or taking a shortcut through a nearby town? The game takes place in a large 3D world, with a focus on exploration. You don't need to be in a predetermined location, but there are quests and other situations that will unfold if you travel to a certain location. You are able to equip and switch gear on the go. Magic damage multiplies with the addition of a certain combination of gear. This makes for some interesting fights against different enemies. Graphically, the game looks very nice.
