I have a basic UIViewController subclass, as follows: @interface UIViewController : UIViewController @end However, when I make a call to one of its properties in my implementation, I get a seemingly erroneous message. For example, if I set my controller's frame to show a specific view, I get the following message: @interface UIViewController () @property (nonatomic, assign) CGFloat viewWidth; @end @implementation UIViewController - (id)initWithNibName:(NSString *)nibNameOrNil bundle:(NSBundle *)nibBundleOrNil { self = [super initWithNibName:nibNameOrNil bundle:nibBundleOrNil]; if (self) { self 595f342e71
