Written by "This sacred ground, this hallowed ground, was our first home. For us as a people, it was our hallowed ground." - Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. (Aug. 28, 1963) From the Theodore Roosevelt Memorial on the National Mall, the famed American president, looking a bit fed up, bids the crowd a hopeful "Good evening." "We are assembled on this spot tonight," he says, "to protest the profound wrong that threatens man's very survival on earth." After a brief detour to decry the "two-party system" that has blocked progress for decades, he...Q: How do I clear an array from the list

I want to use an Ansible provisioning template to install a vault server on that VM. How can I use vault with the template? And what should the vault server be bound to? A: (Disclaimer: I work for Opscode as an Opensource Community Architect) You can absolutely provision vault with an Ansible provisioning template. We have a number of our customers use this type of provisioning template. The vault server can be bound to the vm like so: --- {{vault_server}} {{vault_server.public_ip}} {{vault_server.private_ip}} We have a number of provisioning templates for AppEngine, DigitalOcean, GCP and AWS that use vault.
