This can be really hard on your stomach. This stress you feel on your stomach is caused by an emotion called stress. More than that, there is also an emotional and physical sensation that comes up in your gut. If you think about your gut as a balloon, and you think about how it can stretch, you will be able to get a pretty good idea of what stress is. Just like a balloon, your gut does not like to be stretched. If you subject your gut to the feeling of "stretch" (which is the feeling of stress) your gut will get tight. It will stay tight if you do not let it stretch. It will even get tighter if you get a cramp in your gut. In order to treat this emotional stress of your gut, or to keep it to a minimum, you need to get rid of that emotional stress that you get from people. If you think about it, this is exactly like people. They will get stressed when they are around you. The more you need them to like you, the more stressed they will get. If you give them a reason to like you, then they are going to be relieved. So, if you think about it, the more you need people to like you, the more stressed you are going to be. How To Get People To Like You: Step #1 As soon as you get stress, you are going to want to do something about it. Why? Because you are going to be uncomfortable in that stress for a few seconds, or maybe minutes. The way you can change that is to do something. If you need help with this, then you are going to have to do something about it. So what is that something? I am going to tell you. Step #1 - Get a Rock and Roll Band on Your Side So as soon as you get stress in your gut, you have to do something
