A new approach for the analysis of spatial correlation in the Hanabusa model. We propose a new technique for the analysis of spatial correlation on quadrilateral surfaces. The method focuses on the spatial correlation of the density of landmarks. Landmarks with a large density on the boundary are located using information from the properties of the space. The local change in the correlation along the boundary and in the space itself is discussed as a function of the density of landmarks. The method is applied to the site where the body of Professor Makiko Hoshino was found, and the conclusions indicate that this was probably not the place where she was murdered.Q: 'has_and_belongs_to_many' is not a method on ActiveRecord::Relation I am trying to set up has_and_belongs_to_many in a migration. Here is the migration: class CreateUsersAndWrapJob extends Migration def change create_table :users_wraps, id: :integer do |t| t.integer :user_id t.integer :wrap_job_id t.timestamps end create_table :wraps, id: :integer do |t| t.integer :user_id t.string :job_type t.integer :job_id end create_table :users_wraps_jobs, id: :integer do |t| t.integer :user_id t.integer :wrap_job_id t.integer :job_id end add_index :users_wraps_jobs, :user_id add_index :wraps, :user_id add_index :wraps, :job
